BARBERO

Joan Barbero is a film and television screenwriter, with hundreds of scripts written over more than thirty years of professional experience. He spent the first half of his life in El Prat de Llobregat, where the Barcelona Airport is located, listening to the roar of the planes at the airport, although what really made him fly were books. The Monastery Of The Black Rose is his first novel.

El monasterio de la rosa negra

The Monastery Of The Black Rose

Power is forged in the shadows and paid for in silence.

In the harsh winter of Burgos in the year 1200, the Monastery of Santa María la Real stands as a bastion of power, intrigue, and dark secrets. Under the Machiavellian leadership of Abbess Doña Elvira—a woman whose ambition defies the rigid norms of her time—stories of political manipulation, covert murders, and unexpected alliances intertwine.

When the discovery of a corpse coincides with the arrival of the legendary Eleanor of Aquitaine, tension turns the walls of the monastery and the royal hospital into the scene of a struggle for survival. In an ambience of betrayal, the mysterious past of the Sicilian doctor Beatrice reveals a world where the knowledge and cunning are weapons far more dangerous than the sword.

A fascinating historical thriller that explores the limits of female power and the complex dynamics between politics, religion, and medicine in the Middle Ages.

Me olvidé del cielo

I Forgot About Heaven

Barcelona 1923: a girl disappears in a crowded cinema at the time when the city tries to close an era full of chiaroscuro.

In 1923, Inspector Basilio Bosc returns to Barcelona after five years in Madrid with the task of finding a girl who disappeared in the Coliseum cinema: Cristina Nomdedeu, daughter of an important textile businessman. Bosc's return to his hometown will reveal the life he had left behind, put on hold with his hasty departure, and will open old wounds: the reunion with his family and also his relationship with Joana.

When all avenues of the investigation are closing, the inspector, further tormented by personal revelations, turns to Gabacho, a respected thief in the slums of the District V and a childhood friend. Sooner than expected, all the protagonists of this story will have to face the real evil, the one that will lead the reader to an astonishing end.

Every heart is burdened with guilt.

A historical and criminal thriller with a nostalgic look at our past.

La espía de cristal

The Crystal Spy

Talbe Shala is not just one more victim of the last war in the Balkans. She is a lover with a frozen soul. An interpreter for the United Nations. A mother made of silences. An acclaimed Albano-Kosovar journalist. A spy. This disturbing story begins with a strange disappearance of Taibe in Pristina, her native town, in October 2019.

Manu Pancorbo, alias Panco, an old love of Taibe's and a Spanish war reporter, will embark on his own particular odyssey to find out the reasons for the disappearance of the woman he has never forgotten. He will do so accompanied by his loyal companion in armed conflicts, Olga Balcells, a photographer who has amassed international recognition, death of the loved ones and ghosts from which she cannot free herself.

La espía de cristal is a dark and emotive literature, an agonizing account of what we thought was the last war in Europe. Between the dilemmas of intelligence services and the final search for the truth, there is also room for a love story as ambiguous as it is true.

El chico de las bobinas

The Boy With The Film Reels

A city under constant threat where the most important thing is to learn how to survive. A murder that will reveal a secret meant to be never discovered.

Barcelona, 1945. Nil Roig is a young boy who spends the days on his bicycle, carrying old film reels from one cinema to another and dreaming that one day he will be a projectionist in one of those movie theatres. On the day of his thirteenth birthday he is a witness of a crime committed on the staircase of his house. While the murderer escapes after having threatened him with death if he does not keep his mouth shut, the dying man gives him a mysterious picture card of a film actor from the pre-war times. The object searched for and desired by the low-keyed figures of an ex Gestapo commander and a Francoist police officer. The fact that the man while giving the card to Nil, whispers the name of David, the boy's father, who disappeared on the day when the city was taken over by the victorious army will prompt him to uncover a mystery of the past for which he will pay a high price.

«A historical novel that inclines as much towards the noir as to the spy novel.» ABC Cultura

«A homage to the cinema, the shelter of the post-war time.» La Sexta

«This is one of the novels which will be much talked about this year.» El Ideal de Granada

«A magnificent homage to a vanished era of the cinema.» El Periódico de Catalunya

ROJO

Marc Cistaré

Rojo

Seargent Rojo

The flabby hand of Seargent Rojo clasped the even flabbier hand of Generalissimo Francisco Franco. That handshake was the least manly handshake in the history of handshakes.

The Nationalist soldier Conrado Rojo Rojo spent the Civil War with no more ammunition than the keys of his typewriter. The biggest problem he faced during the war was dealing with or rather suffering the consequences of his unfortunate surname every time a superior ordered him to identify himself.

A soldier's life is turned upside down when he is transferred from the comfort of his office in the Ministry of the Army to the horror of the San Martín del Río Cuervo Prison Camp and Military Penitentiary Colonies.

Among the barracks surrounded by barbed wire, he finds, in addition to old acquaintances, a reality that no one had ever told him about: hunger, misery, humiliation, arrogance, idleness, subjugation, humiliation, disease and death.

No mientas

You Shall Not Lie

Daniela's body turns up lifeless in a hotel on the outskirts of San Sebastian. She was waiting for her lover in the room where she met her brutal and violent death: handcuffed, blindfolded to simulate an innocent sexual game, and stabbed.

Inspector Adriana Collante goes to the crime scene to take charge of the investigation. But so does a journalist who has received an e-mail from the killer with the time and the date of the murder scene. In this way the death of the woman, the first victim to fall into the clutches of this sociopath is announced. What initially appeared to be a crime of passion, a revenge attack, soon becomes the first in a macabre series of murders narrated and published on a website minutes before they happen.

So begins a fast-paced race against the clock to catch the murderer before he achieves his goal and the fame that follows each death foretold.

Seven deadly sins, seven infidelities, seven deaths.

Seven chapters of a gory book that will shock the whole country of Spain.

Will you dare to read it?

El espía

The Spy

The new historical thriller by the acclaimed novelist Jorge Díaz.

Almería, 1952. A man flees in terror from some young men who harass him with dogs trained to kill. His corpse is abandoned, brutally mutilated, on a beach in idyllic Mojácar in the south of Spain.

To solve the crime, the Guardia Civil sends young Corporal Javier Bermejo on a mission that seems to be beyond him. Who is this man? Each piece of information leads to a different conclusion: a German spy from the Great War, a seductive nobleman who has made greed his way of life, a Nazi hierarch during the Second World War, a Jew who joined his enemies to flee from barbarism.

El espía is a gripping journey through the first half of the 20th century, a historical thriller that portrays characters as monstrous as they are real, the cruelest of our past.

El espía is a historical thriller loaded with mystery, love intrigues, surprising characters and settings in Spain during the first half of the 20th century.

The author immerses us in the atmosphere of Barcelona in 1917, in its power relations and its secrets; also in the Almería of the 50's. An impressive fresco with a plot that engrosses and surprises in equal parts.

Many of the characters that appear in El espía are real.

The mystery surrounding the enigmatic Baron keeps the reader hooked. What kind of turpitude does it take to become involved in espionage and survive the Great War, the Spanish Civil War and the barbarity of the WWII?

Soma

First novel by one of the screenwriters of the acclaimed TV series 'La Casa de Papel'.

Something sinister is happening and you are about to find out.

One ordinary afternoon in Madrid, a man climbs onto a rooftop and throws himself off. Arregui, a journalist in crisis who needs a big story to avoid being fired from his newspaper, witnesses the scene in horror. That same day, Aisha, a young paediatric assistant at the La Paz Hospital, and the daughter of Lebanese parents, receives the best and worst news of her life: in the morning she discovers that she is pregnant, and that same afternoon, a sad-looking inspector, Santos, tells her that her parents have been murdered. Arregui's journalistic nose leads him to suspect that several suicides and murders that no one has ever linked before are connected in a mysterious way. It all has to do with 'Soma'. To stop 'Soma' Arregui and Aisha will have to work together, but in doing so they will become the next targets.

Jotadé Series

After the success of Indira trilogy comes the new series by Santiago Díaz, the award-winning breakout writer of Spanish crime novels, praised by peers and critics alike, with more than 250,000 readers addicted to his 'tachycardia thrillers' (El País).

JayDi: A COP WHO WILL MAKE HISTORY.

'One of the kings of crime novels in Spain'. Cadena SER

'An expert in the alchemy of the thriller'. Marina Sanmartín, ABC Cultural

It is a hot July night in Madrid when two men are disembowelled and thrown off a bridge on the M30 in what looks like a sinister settling of scores between clans. Their viscera land on a convertible that ends up sinking into the Manzanares with its occupants, three girls who were returning from a party. One of them dies on the spot: it is the youngest daughter of the commissioner, who demands quick responses from his agents and little noise in the media. This is an almost impossible order for sub-inspector Jotadé Cortés, the only gypsy policeman in his station and a hopelessly irreverent man who abhors hierarchies and is in the habit of breaking the rules. But everyone knows that he also possesses above-average intuition and that he was Inspector Indira Ramos' right-hand man in her last case. Loyal to his colleagues and respected in the street, Jotadé will find himself at the crossroads that will force him to return to an uncomfortable past and to do the impossible to protect the most important thing in his life.

Santiago Díaz begins a new high-impact series that once again hypnotises us with its twists and turns and confirms its author as 'one of the kings of crime novels in Spain'

Jacobo Buceta, Hoy por Hoy, Cadena SER

Critics have said of 'Indira':

'This book is a written proof that there is a well-founded basis for originality to burst forth. [...]

A slow-cooked success that in less than two years has elevated the author to the status of an authoritative voice in noir'.

Ana Belén García Flores, RTVE

'A story to devour. [...] Díaz is an expert in the alchemy of the thriller and manipulates and integrates its ingredients to perfection. [...]

'Indira guarantees us an overdose of entertainment'.

Marina Sanmartín, ABC Cultural

'In recent years, Santiago Díaz has narrated a trilogy that will remain in the memory of noir genre lovers'.

Alberto Lardiés, Crónica Vasca

'One of the leading authors of the Spanish noir novel'.

Mavi Aldana, Otros acentos (RTVE)

'One of the most interesting writers of the Spanish noir novel. [...] Complex and brave'.

Los nueve reinos

The Nine Kingdoms

A GREAT EPIC, A VANISHED CIVILISATION. THE LEAST KNOWN EPISODE IN THE HISTORY OF SPAIN

By the award-winning author of THE GOOD FATHER, which captivated over 130,000 readers.

"It is better to die with dignity than to live enslaved".

First century BC. After the mutiny on the ship in which they were being transported by the Romans, eighty African prisoners of war and their wives are swept by the currents to the island of Tenerife. For 1,500 years, their descendants created a civilisation there, isolated from the rest of the world, until the nine kingdoms that make up the Guanche territory became the target of the Catholic Monarchs. Blood will be spilled from north to south of the island in this great adventure that retraces betrayals, sacrifices and forbidden passions to tell the story of a warrior lineage led by the mencey Bencomo, king of kings, who fought to the end for his freedom.

Santiago Díaz presents an extraordinary account, never before told, of the Guanche resistance to the Crown of Castile, but also an astonishing chronicle of the Spain of the time through the eyes of a slave in search of her origins, the story of an impossible love and the portrait of a civilisation full of mysteries that eventually vanished forever.

El buen padre

*The Good FatherIndira Ramos Series 1

An old man turns himself in to the police, saying that he has abducted three persons: a judge, a lawyer and a young escort girl who was a witness in the court case of his son, accused of killing his wife. Convinced that the three of them were bribed to convict his son, he tells the police that they will all be left to die at a week's intervals if the real killers of his daughter-in-law are not detained.

Inspector Indira Ramos and her team will head the investigation into the abductees. They will try to find their whereabouts before the deadline given by the old man and then reopen the case of his daughter-in-law's murder... and before long they will discover that nothing is as clear as it seemed at the beginning.

Las otras niñas

*The Other GirlsIndira Ramos Series 2

Thirty years ago a brutal murder shocked Spanish public. The killer was never captured. Until now. Inspector Indira Ramos has spent the last three years on unpaid leave in her native Extremadura. Apart from her family, nobody knows that she has given birth to a girl, Alba, the matter kept secret from deputy inspector Iván Moreno, the father of her daughter. When in December 2022 the time comes to rejoin the staff of the police station in Madrid, she feels demotivated and is ready to give up her job. She is unable to face Iván whom she blames for the death of her friend, Dani. Neither of them still know that they will have to solve the biggest criminal brain teaser in the history of modern Spain: at a petrol station there were found the fingerprints of the one who has been for years the most wanted man in the country. As the brutal killing is now prescriptive, there is no reason for the police to detain the main suspect of the crime who now lives under an assumed identity. But Inspector Ramos is convinced that a killer will always commit another murder. She only needs to find the crime for which he will not go unpunished.

Indira

*IndiraIndira Ramos Series 3

For inspector Indira Ramos it has been an extremely eventful year. She has hunted down a monster everybody gave up for dead, has lost one of her best officers in an ill-fated accident and has had to choose between the two men in her life. But when everything seemed to be back to normal and she was contemplating a quieter time ahead, the circumstances dictated that the matters be more complicated than ever. Her team is now made up of detective sergeant María Ortega, the police officer Lucía Navarro, now even more reserved after her therapy and of Jotadé, a police officer of Rom descent, famed for the unorthodox albeit effective approach who will turn the life of his companions upside down. They will have to investigate the case of several bodies found on a construction plot that seem to be connected with a mysterious trip made in the past. Meanwhile, inspector Ramos and inspector Moreno find out in the worst manner possible that an old enemy has for years been harbouring a grudge against them and is now ready to strike where it most hurts. Indira and Iván will have to work together to face a case that will change their life and will unite or separate them forever.

La esencia secreta de la casa Frossard

The secret Essence Of The Flossard's Manor

In a world at war, the scent of perfume and the secrets of an ancient book mark the lives of two unforgettable women.

Provence, 1943. Chantal Frossard jumps out of a truck and, enraptured by the hypnotic fragrance of a lavender plantation, takes an ancient book out of her shoulder bag; following its instructions she creates a mysterious essence. She heads for Grasse, the capital of perfumes, to reunite with her family. It is the first time she is meeting them. Her mother, who has now disappeared, ran away from home when she was very young.

Where did Chantal Frossard come from? Ana Fernández knows it well, having met her in 1935 in Pallars, on the border with Andorra and France. Ana, an orphan and assistant to a healer, harbours a lot of resentment towards that capricious girl who she believes has manipulated her at will and drove her away from her boyfriend.

Chantal and Ana are two women united by an innate talent for perfume and a mysterious book, said to have been written by Cleopatra, with which they prepare essences that affect the mood of those who inhale them. Two antagonistic women, at odds with each other, who hate and love each other in a multifaceted and nuanced relationship, where nothing is ever as it seems.

A story of secrets, emotions and hypnotic perfumes that awaken the most hidden passions, set during the Spanish Civil War and the French Resistance.

Una pregunta para Elena

A Question For Elena

After the success of her first novel El prodigio de las migas de pan, the author returns with a novel Una pregunta para Elena about the lives of a whole generation of women in the 1950s, set in Barcelona and featuring the most famous and popular sentimental radio programme of the time, Elena Francis's Radio Office.

Barcelona, May 1952. The city is buzzing with preparations for the XXV Eucharistic Congress, an imposing celebration of the Catholic faith that aims to breathe hope into a country broken by the misery of the post-war period. The radio, synonymous with modernity, enchants women all over the country with a space where they are the protagonists: the consulting room of doctor Elena Francis. Berta, a 21-year-old orphan adopted by Eleonora and Sebastián, who has grown up with their daughter Ramona, arrives in the city with her family to attend the Congress. All three hope to meet the mythical doctor Francis so that she will guide them to solving a personal problem they do not share with anyone and on which the future of each of them depends.

El prodigio de las migas de pan

The Prodigy Of The Bread Morsels

El prodigio de las migas de pan is an intriguing story with historical background and describes the times of fundamental changes which connect us to our modern times. The novel is a voyage towards freedom, a reflection on maternity and a portrait of two women, Maria Montessori and her assistant Claudia Caralt who dared to defend their intellect and their dreams.

Rome, 1900. Claudia was born in Spain but fate took her to Rome when she was nineteen and where she found a job in a shelter and met a woman who will change her life. From that moment she will follow Doctor Montessori in her efforts to reform the education, will witness the creation of a new teaching method and will stand by her in the most difficult moments in her life. For three decades, they will defy the conventions of the times by advancing a powerful, stimulating and innovative idea: only through education can the world be changed. Dealing with criminals involved in child trade, confronting romantic disenchantments and countering terrible threats will have them travelling from Rome to London to San Francisco and to Barcelona.

The Swaying Of The Alacrán

The wreck of a fishing boat, a ghostly city of Vigo and death lurking beneath the surface: a new master of the atmospheric thriller.

In 2022, the Galician fishing trawler the Alacrán sank off the Canadian coast and only two of its twenty-four crew survived. After the trial begins, Raúl Barros, the president of the business conglomerate that owned the trawler, is found dead. Inspector Tristán Negreira and sub-inspector Virginia Almada, from the National Police in Vigo, will be in charge of investigating this double crime whose motives go back many years.

An overwhelming novel by a new author of atmospheric crime thrillers set on the Galician coast, following in the wake of successful authors in the genre. The novel is based on a true story, an unfortunate event in which a Spanish fishing boat sank off the Canadian coast after a storm at sea in 2022 and the trial discovered that it could have been avoided.

NOELIA LORENZO PINO

Noir novel writer, Noelia Lorenzo Pino (Irún, 1978) has published her first novels in the independent publishing houses of Erein and Travel Bug. She has received the Premio Cubelles Noir for the best noir novel and was finalist in the Tenerife Noir, Salamanca Negra, Premios Novelpol and the prestigious Dashiell Hammett contests. A spell-binding plot, an uncommon setting, a set of complex and distinctive characters, two charismatic and emphatic female leading cops and an amazing conclusion: The Lur and Madi Series contains all that the fans of thrillers and noir novels want.

«Absolutely addictive. Great Noelia Lorenzo Pino confronts us with the darkest side of a human being in a novel that you will not be able to put down until you get to the end.»

Ibon Martín, writer

«Tough, frantic, alive, real. The prose of Noelia Lorenzo Pino reaches the height of its expression in this novel, thus elevating the author to the very top of the contemporary noir genre.»

Susana Rodríguez Lezaun, The Pamplona Negra Coordinator

«Thanks to her vast knowledge while drawing the psychological portraits of the characters and to excellent dialogues, the Irunian writer strengthens her position as one of the most powerful voices in the crime genre in our country.»

Marta Marne, El Periódico

«Noelia Lorenzo Pino is considered a point of reference of the Basque noir novel.»

Ana Vozmediano, Diario Vasco

«One of the most popular authors of the noir genre, winner of the Premio Cubelles Noir 2018 for “the best noir novel written by a woman”.»

LUR AND MADDI Purasangre SERIES 2 Pureblood

The long-awaited new novel by Noelia Lorenzo Pino, one of Euskal noir's most widely read writers, with the return of the readers' favourite pair of erzainas: Lur de las Heras and Maddi Blasco.

A mysterious message sent to the Ertzaintza and a sudden disappearance in the border town of Irún bring together inspector officer Lur de la Heras and officer Maddi Blasco in an enigmatic and disturbing case. The missing person is Sua, a girl who is familiar to Lur but whom she has not seen for years. Through the reconstruction of the days leading up to her disappearance, Lur and Maddi are drawn into the young woman's hidden world, a web of toxic relationships, fear, depression and addictions. The two women must not only discover what has happened to Sua, but also try to ensure that this descent into the darkest side of the human being does not affect their own lives.

LUR AND MADDI Blanco Inmaculado SERIES 1 Virgin White

A new and promising voice of Euskal noir is a creepy and atmospheric thriller, setting the world of modern sects in the rural Basque landscape.

They are a clannish community, a group of people who escape from the consumer society. For the Fritz Family there is only one word: a sect.

Makers of immaculately white handcrafted clothes, the Fritzes are a community-sanctuary on the margin of society. But their solitary and peaceful life is over when a fire broke out in the small hamlet where they live. In the rubble the firefighters find a gagged body of a girl of fourteen. Lur de las Heras, an accomplished and judicious police officer, restricted in her activities due to her degenerative illness and her new companion, patrol officer Maddi Blasco, quick-witted and enthusiastic, will be assigned to lead the investigation.

La Capitana

Murder In Granada

Susana Martín Gijón goes back to the 16th century to narrate a crime wave in Granada, with the most unique detective duo in Spanish historical crime novels.

Granada, 1585. In a devastated city still suffering from the effects of the expulsion of its Moorish population, a nun struggles to keep her convent going. She is Ana de Jesús, the successor to Mother Teresa, who will be nicknamed 'the captain of the prioresses' for expanding, with a firm hand, the order of the Discalced Carmelites beyond the borders. A few kilometres away, on a hill overlooking the city and the Alhambra, a man governs the destinies of the monks of the same order. It is Saint John of the Cross, spiritual guide and a close friend of the prioress. These are difficult times of frantic search for funding, when the body of a disfigured man appears in the cloister of the monastery governed by Sister Ana, thus endangering the continuity of the order and its reputation. Who was he and how did he get there? Sister Ana de Jesús and Friar Juan de la Cruz will have to roll up their sleeves and start investigating the case, trying to use caution and discretion to avoid confronting the powers that be in the bastion of Christianity chosen by the Crown.

La Babilonia, 1580

The Babylon, 1580

After 1793 and The Beast arrives the great novel that remodels the noir genre and the historical novel. A monumental thriller set in Seville in 1580 and a secret that could change the course of history.

Seville, 1580. The city has become the main port for trade to the Indies and, therefore, the commercial capital of the Occident. His Majesty's Fleet of the Indies is about to set sail. The skin torn from a woman's face and her red hair appear attached like a macabre disguise on the figurehead of the Capitana, the warship that leads the fleet. In the Arenal, in an area enclosed by high walls in the centre of a labyrinth of streets there is La Babilonia, the most sought-after brothel in the whole city. A few metres further on, the convent of the Discalced Carmelites founded by Teresa de Jesús. Behind these walls live the protagonists of this story: Damiana, a prostitute of renown, and Sister Catalina. The two friends that grew up together until life abruptly separated them will have to find out who murdered the redhead so brutally and why. To do so, they will put their lives in danger and reveal the crown's best kept secret, a mysterious map carved in wood that could change the course of history.

Susana Martín Gijón, a veteran of the noir genre and author of the successful Camino Vargas series, with more than sixty thousand copies sold, surprises us with a historical thriller based on the recent investigation, exciting and revealing, that could change the whole story about the discovery of America, with echoes of the sensory reading experience of Süskind's Perfume and the dizzying and hypnotic plot of 1793 by Niklas Natt och Dag.

Saga del trébol 2 (The Clover Series 2)

The second novel in the Clover Series, a suspenseful and pulse-pounding trilogy set in Extremadura, by the author of La Babilonia, 1580.

The quiet city of Mérida becomes the front-page news for two almost simultaneous crimes: the owner of a Roman-style spa is stabbed to death in its thermal baths, and a high-ranking member of the regional government is seriously injured during a public event. The cases seem unconnected, but agent Annika Kaunda, who is once again torn between the orders of her superiors and her conscience, doesn't think so, especially when she discovers a disconcerting fact: the weapons used in both crimes may be almost two thousand years old.

Progenie

Progeny

Camino Vargas Series 1

A dramatic police procedural that delves into one of the major themes of our times: a reflection on motherhood, and with it, on family models and on still existing social demands imposed on women. A captivating thriller and a powerful way of telling a story that is much more than just the plot and the characters: it deals with the issue of artificial fertilization and genetic manipulation.

Camino Vargas Series 2

A fast-paced novel with twists and turns where nothing will be as it seems. A fascinating case, physical and psychological violence, a social and ideological dilemma and, once again, an important subject. The setting is Seville and the characters are skilfully crafted: the great Camino Vargas joins forces with a new police officer in the Brigade, Evita Gallego.

Camino Vargas Series 3

Acclaimed by readers and critics alike, Susana Martín Gijón, the winner of the Cubelles Noir Award and shortlisted for the Paco Camarasa Award, is back.

A bloodless body found on a golf course challenges Seville's police. Detective Camino Vargas investigates while dealing with personal issues. Simultaneously, an Italian inspector probes deaths emulating animal slaughter. The story explores eco-terrorism and environmental abuse, promising a mix of intrigue and social commentary, continuing themes from the author's previous works.

AGUSTÍN
MARTÍNEZ

Agustín Martínez was born in Lorca, Murcia, in 1975. A graduate in Image and Sound at the Complutense University in Madrid, he began his professional career as a scriptwriter in 1998 with Al Salir de Clase. Since then he has participated in preparing several series (Sin Tetras no hay paraíso, Crematorio, Victor Ross and others) and radio programmes (Un lugar llamado mundo, Ondas Award 2014). In 2015 he published his first novel, Monteperdido, which was translated in over a dozen countries (the US, England, France and Germany among them). La mala hierba, his second novel, was also published in different countries. In 2019 he writes and produces “La caza. Monteperdido”, an adaptation of his homonymous novel and then continues with the second and third season, “La Caza. Tramuntana” and “La Caza. Guadiana”.

At present he is the creator and a showrunner of “Feria” for Netflix.

He is one of the three writers forming part of the pseudonymous Carmen Mola (together with Jorge Díaz and Antonio Mercero), winner of the Planeta Award 2021 for the historical thriller La Bestia, and author of La novia gitana, La red purpura, La nena, Las madres and El clan, the successful saga of inspector Elena Blanco. La novia gitana and La red purpura was adapted into TV series by DiagonalTV/Viacom/CBS. El Esplendor is his newest and long-awaited novel.

El Esplendor

The Splendor

César and Rebeca are a couple of swindlers in their late twenties. He controls drugs and women in a luxury hotel in Madrid; she obtains data on the deceased without heirs and searches for relatives who can collect the inheritance in exchange for a commission.

Rebeca has just returned from a trip that promises huge profits but hides grave dangers on a remote island. The next morning César finds her in the living room and notices that her eyes are open, but she is unresponsive. Her body is twisted in an unimaginable position. The doctors discover some wounds on her body, and that she has had sexual relations. Other options ruled out, the diagnosis is post-traumatic stress disorder.

El Esplendor is a mystery novel, a thriller that portrays identities, and alternates the points of view of César and Rebeca, with influences of Eyes Wide Shut or Millennium and certain influences of Dracula. And also the origins of Citadelle, the fortress in Alderney, which are linked with the island's past and the years of the Nazi occupation when this place known as Adolf Island was also a concentration camp.

Está lloviendo y te quiero

It Is Raining And I Love You

ANTONIO MERCERO, ONE OF THE AUTHORS OF THE CARMEN MOLA TRIO, SURPRISES US WITH AN IMPRESSIVE FAMILY SAGA.

When Paula gives her brother an antique wall clock made by their great-grandfather, their mother, on seeing it, suffers a heart attack and ends up in hospital.

Paula begins to probe into it, because her intuition tells her that it could not have been a mere coincidence, and discovers an enigmatic message inside the clock: 'It's raining and I love you'. What does this mean?

Her search will lead her to unearthing the history of her family in the Basque Country: four generations marked by hunger, love and level-headedness. From the political struggles that led to the Civil War, through the ferocious Franco era to the present day. A great metaphor of time, a beautiful tapestry of emotions about what we inherit, a thrilling family saga that spans the last century of Spain.

Está lloviendo y te quiero is a great metaphor of the political conflicts that have defined the Spanish society: moving, mysterious and beautifully written. This powerful family saga appeals to universal sentiments and is based on the life experience of Antonio Mercero. The story is a beautiful exploration of identity, memory and the legacy of our mothers, fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers.

The author weaves a powerful tale full of conflicts and emotions in different times and settings, from a thoroughbred racetrack in Lasarte at the beginning of the last century to the clandestine printing presses in Madrid during Franco's regime.

We will relive the past with its secrets, romances, adventures and misfortunes thanks to an antique wall clock that intertwines the lives of four generations.

SOFÍA LUNA SERIES 2

El caso de las japonesas muertas

The Case Of The Dead Japanese Girls

Inspector Sofía Luna returns in a spellbinding plot that delves into the darkest aspects of the human condition..

The murder of several Japanese tourists in Madrid confronts Inspector Sofía Luna with a complex case linked to the world of organised travel. The victims belong to a unique group of asexual people who reject the hyper-sexuality of modern life.

At the same time, Inspector Luna must face an unexpected personal dilemma: her father, with whom she has broken off all relations for some years now, is implicated in the death of a man. Luna must navigate between the two cases where the boundary between the personal and the professional becomes dangerously blurred.

SOFÍA LUNA SERIES 1

El final del hombre

The End of Men

The world belongs to women.

Sofia Luna faces her first case after being legally recognised as a woman: Jon Senovilla, the son of a famous writer, has been found dead on his garden swing with a medieval knife stuck in his abdomen.

As she investigates the crime together with Laura, her partner and former lover, inspector Luna will discover a complex web of secrets, lies and conflicts in the victim's environment and at the same time she will have to deal with the rejection of her colleagues, social prejudices and the open wounds in her own family.

CARMEN MOLA

Carmen Mola was born in the spring of 2017 in Madrid when the authors Jorge Díaz, Agustín Martínez and Antonio Mercero decided to venture into collective writing, which took the shape of the first novel, La novia gitana, followed later by La red púrpura, La Nena, Las madres and El clan, published in Alfaguara Negra and translated in over twenty five countries. In all those years, the three authors have been carrying out their personal projects, both in novel and scriptwriting:

Jorge Díaz (Alicante, 1962) is the author of the novels Cartas al Palacio and La Justicia de los errantes, as well as of the TV series like Hospital Central.

Antonio Mercero (Madrid, 1969) has simultaneously written film and television scripts (Felices 140, Hospital Central, Hache) and has published novels among which are Pleamar and El final del hombre.

Agustín Martínez (Lorca, 1975) is the creator of the series Feria, La luz más oscura and La Caza (Monteperdido and Tramuntana) and has written the novels Monteperdido and La mala hierba.

Carmen Mola has been awarded the Premio Planeta de Novela 2021 for the historical thriller entitled La Bestia, provoking an international debate about collective writing, the use of feminine pseudonyms in the 21st century and a notable connection between commercial literature and audiovisual contents.

«With The Gipsy Bride, Carmen Mola enters the panorama of the police procedural with tremendous impetus (...) The novel's solid structure and the plot unfolding like a classic detective story at the same time breaks with various conventional principles.» Juan Carlos Galindo, El País

«A great and fascinating thriller.» Manuel Rodríguez Rivero, Babelia

El infierno

The Hell

The Hell* is a breakneck journey into the depths of evil that will bewilder and captivate readers, especially lovers of historical thrillers and faithful followers of the Carmen Mola phenomenon.

Dramatic events during the army uprising against Queen Isabel II stain the streets of Madrid with blood and dead bodies. People call it the sargentada (rebellion of the sergeants) and horror spreads throughout the city. Amidst the cannon fire and gunfire, a dancer named Leonor and a young medical student named Mauro become involved in an unintentional murder that will mark their lives. Their chance meeting, while hiding from possible reprisals, will awaken in both of them an attraction as unexpected as it is unforgettable.

Fleeing prison or death, Leonor is forced to accept the marriage proposal of a millionaire landowner with whom she travels to Havana, but when she arrives there, this marvellous Caribbean enclave is not what she expects. She moves among the most privileged circles and finds that the sugar plantations and sugar mills hide the tragedy of a slavery that is still very much alive. And, among the slaves, Mauro appears: how did he get there when he was determined to stand by his fellow revolutionaries in Spain? In a desperate attempt to escape from that hell, both will discover a conspiracy whose tragic result is the appearance of wealthy landowners murdered during a brutal African ancestral rite.

La Bestia

The Beast

PLANETA BOOK AWARD 2021

Pulling together all the threads of a perfect thriller, Carmen Mola intricately weaves a gripping, quick-paced and brutal novel of inferno and darkness. It is 1834 and the inhabitants of Madrid, already ravaged by an epidemic of cholera, must confront a terrifying beast that is killing girls from the lowest social class. From there a lurid work of fiction emerges, an engrossing narrative that takes readers by storm.

It's the summer of 1834 and Madrid is trying to survive a devastating epidemic of cholera which has already wreaked damage in many parts of Europe. Disease and death are commonplace. The city, on the brink of collapse, wants to open up beyond the surrounding wall. Everybody lives in terror of the disease but in the slums around the Wall, where the poorest have set up makeshift, lean-to homes, something much more horrifying is going on. Dismembered bodies of girls are showing up and nobody ever claims them. Rumor has it that the perpetrator is The Beast, being that nobody has seen but everybody fears.

The Clan

Elena Blanco Series 5

Magnificent, brutal and hugely addictive, Carmen Mola outdoes herself in the long-awaited denouement of the Inspector Elena Blanco series.

When dying doesn't matter, everything is permitted. Elena Blanco, inspector of the Case Analysis Brigade (BAC) faces her worst enemy, a powerful organisation made up of personalities from the world of business, politics, the judiciary and the police. The Clan. To confront it is to end up dead. Even so, the BAC rises to the challenge. But when Elena receives images of Zarate lying in a pool of blood, she makes an unforgivable mistake. With the inspector wanted by the police, accused of the murder of a policeman, and Zárate missing, Mariajo, Reyes, Orduño and Buendía wage war on their own. The arrival of a new inspector to replace Elena worsens the situation: she seems to have been sent by the Clan with the mission of bringing down the BAC and putting Blanco in jail. However, the discovery of some corpses that have been disembowelled leads Elena's investigation to cross all limits to save her Brigade and find Zárate, without knowing if he is dead or alive. It is the beginning of the end for the BAC. None of its members had ever faced a killer as ruthless as the Clan.

The Mothers

Elena Blanco Series 4

Inspector Elena Blanco enters the Madrid Municipal Car Deposit, and approaches an old pick-up van which gives off a putrid smell. Inside there is the body of a man with a roughly sewn stitch from the pubic area up to the stomach. The first indications from the autopsy show that this drug addict had some of his organs removed and a foetus put in their place. The DNA analysis reveal it is the man's biological son. Several days later, in the port of La Coruña appears the body of a tax adviser, killed in the same way. What is the relation between both victims? And where are the mothers of the babies. The Brigade of the Case Analysis opens the investigation again. While the relationship between Elena and Zarate gets more and more complicated, all the clues will lead them close to a mysterious organization: it seems that whoever gets in any kind of contact with them must die.

Bachelor in Law and Business Administration, she has extensive work experience in training for companies and managers. The time she spends on writing she shares with hobbies such as yoga, cooking and traveling. Her novels are distinguished by the use of the historical frame with special attention to the first decades of the 20th century, well-knit plots and feminine protagonists.

Winner of the Círculo de Lectores Award, Una dama en juego was her first novel which sold more than 100,000 copies. La tabla esmeralda, her second novel, sold over 150,000 copies and rights to several countries. With La piel dorada and El invierno en tu rostro she became an acclaimed bestselling writer in Spain and Latin America. Her latest novel, El jardín de las mujeres Verelli, (2019) hit the bestselling lists in Spain just upon its publication. El Medallón de fuego published by Plaza & Janés in October 2021 is the long-awaited continuation of La tabla esmeralda. El viñedo de la luna was published in 2024, and a new novel is in the pipeline. La dama de la niebla is her most recent novel.

La dama de la niebla

The Lady From The Mist

Isle of Man, 1938. An unexpected love. A war about to break out. An unforgettable novel.

Isle of Man, 1938. In a remote corner of the Irish Sea, where the wind carries echoes of war and the roads twist and turn between cliffs and secrets, Mila Kovac, a young Spanish driver, arrives to take part in a motor race. She has left behind the death of her husband, the famous Anton Behra, and a past full of open wounds.

Around the racetrack, the great drivers of the moment, men and women, gather. But it is off the track that Mila must face her real challenge: to confront her history, an unexpected passion and the suspicions that still hang over Anton's death. As personal rivalries intensify and Europe faces a new conflict, Mila searches for her place among the fog, memory and desire.

Carla Montero has written an unforgettable and exciting novel, in which love, ambition and hidden truths cross the finish line in a world that is about to change forever.

El viñedo de la luna

The Moonlight Vineyard

A family ravaged by the Nazi occupation.

A Spanish exile in pursuit of the most valuable wine treasure in the world.

A love triangle marked by duty, loyalty and passion.

Following her hasty marriage to Octave de Fonneuve, Aldara, a refugee from the Civil War, arrives at the Domaine de Clair de Lune, an important winery in Burgundy. When war breaks out in France, her husband is taken prisoner, leaving her alone to face her father-in-law's misgivings, her brother-in-law's harassment and the German occupation. With everything against her, her love and loyalty to Octave will drive her to taking over a business threatened by the plundering of the Nazis. However, her determination will be tested when two men appear: a German lieutenant, who is staying at the mansion, and an Allied pilot, whom she hides from the Gestapo. Involved in the French Resistance, trapped by the intrigues and secrets of her in-laws and haunted by the ghosts of her past, Aldara must do all she can to survive one of the most difficult and exciting times in history.

El jardín de las mujeres Verelli

The Garden of the Verellis

A family of absent men and courageous women. A legacy which contains valuable lessons. An opportunity for a new start. A voyage in search of the simplest way of living.

Gianna has been living with her grandmother in the back room of La Cucina dei Fiori, an Italian Deli in Barcelona. She knows nothing of her family's past. But on the night when her grandmother dies, she finds among her things the key to a windmill situated in a small village in the north of Italy and a diary of her great grandmother, Anice, with missing pages. When her life seems to fall apart, Gianna finds in the history of her great grandmother the inspiration to start again and sets out for Italy in search of her roots. Through this journey we get to know Anice, her almost magical relation with nature, the story of her love disrupted by the outbreak of the Great War and the mysterious reasons why she had to abandon everything. But at the same time, we accompany Gianna in the passage of personal rediscovery and of what really is important in life: love, friendship and a place to call home.

«Montero's writing is warm and direct, a feel-good read. I have to admit that I love landscape novels, and in this one the reader will enjoy the Italian and Spanish history, culture and beautiful places where magic and love can change everything.»

Fanfan

«Carla Montero delivers a moving and irresistible story with exceptionally well-depicted and unforgettable characters where women play a special role in choosing their own way to find happiness and freedom with integrity, courage and selflessness.»

The Medallion of Hiram

AN ANCIENT RELIC THAT WILL MARK THE COURSE OF HISTORY
 A FAST-PACED SEARCH ACROSS EUROPE
 THE PROTAGONISTS OF THE ASTROLOGER RETURN

Madrid, today. Ana García-Brest, the art expert, receives a call from Martin, a young and mysterious treasure hunter whom she briefly met during the search for The Astrologer. An Italian tycoon has been assassinated and another powerful treasure is in danger: The Medallion of Hiram, a magical relic that belonged to the architect of the Temple of Solomon.

Berlin, 1945. In the throes of World War II, the destinies of four people are about to cross with unforeseen consequences for Hiram's Medallion: a bloodthirsty Nazi who tracks down a ruined Berlin with an obsession to get hold of the medallion; a young Spanish student of architecture, who is involved in an unsuspected intrigue; a German engineer who is in the spy ring of the Russian intelligence service, and a Soviet army sniper who keeps an important secret.

La Tabla Esmeralda

The Astrologer

TWO LOVE STORIES SEPARATED IN TIME
 BUT UNITED BY THE MYSTERY OF A MISSING PAINTING

Madrid, today. Until The Astrologer crossed her path, Ana, a young art historian from the Prado Museum, led a quiet life with Konrad, a businessman and collector of German art. But a letter written during World War II puts them on the trail of the mysterious painting attributed to Giorgione, an enigmatic Renaissance painter. Encouraged by the possibly enormous value of The Astrologer, Konrad convinces Ana to embark on a search for it.

Paris, during the German occupation. The SS commander, Georg von Bergheim, an elite military officer and war hero, has just received an order: he must find the whereabouts of a painting by Giorgione known as The Astrologer. Hitler is convinced that the canvas hides a great enigma, a revelation that has passed from hand to hand for centuries.

Estás en mis ojos

You Are In My Eyes

A fascinating novelised life of the photographer Hélène Roger, through the eyes of a policewoman harassed by her colleague.

Paris, 1985. The prestigious photographer Hélène Roger, founder of the famous Roger-Viollet photography agency, is murdered at the age of eighty-three by her husband and business partner Jean Fisher. Police inspector Isabel Santolaria immediately takes charge of the investigation together with inspector Michel Étienne, with whom she has an extramarital relationship, built on domination and violence. But Fisher commits suicide in his cell before the trial begins. Unable to endure the oppressive harassment of her partner any longer, Isabel makes a decision that will mark her life.

In 2019, Isabel, in her sixties, is writing the memoirs of famous people in the shadows. One day, she receives a call from Carlota Masson, a former employee of the Roger-Viollet agency, who asks her to write Hélène's biography so that her life is not buried in oblivion. From then on, Isabel will have to recall the hardest years of her life and weave the threads of the story of a woman ahead of her time who made a place for herself in a man's world.

La casa de los hilos rotos

The House Of The Torn Threads

La casa de los hilos rotos is a novel based on the life of the painter and textile designer Otti Berger, an important figure in the progressive German Bauhaus school of art, who, like many women of her time, in one way or another was silenced by history. Woman, communist of Jewish descent with a fascinating artistic, professional and emotional career path, Berger was victim of the History. In the novel, the life of Otti interweaves with the present story of Montserrat Ribó and her daughter Penélope. She is the one who discovers secret diaries of her great-grandmother, Mercè Ribó, in the family country house in Girona, a circumstance that will completely change her life and that of the rest of her family. Following each line of the diary, Penélope weaves a gripping narrative of the relationship between Otti and Mercè, two women who joined their lives in troubled times when the barbarity began to file its claws. Penélope will find out that her great-grandmother Mercè Ribó, an upper-class Barcelonian and a devotee of art and the Bauhaus movement went to Dessau and there she met the enigmatic Otti Berger from whom she did not separate until the beginning of the Civil War in Spain. Sometime later destiny will link their lives again in the Auschwitz concentration camp. La casa de los hilos rotos is a hymn to freedom, to friendship, art and love and to the memory of all those forgotten women. Torn threads are restored on these pages so that the reader can again wander through the heroes' lives.

«An excellent novel for its setting and its characters, masterfully drawn. La casa de los hilos rotos is an earnest, committed and very well written novel. You could say it is flawless. A must read.»

Concha Vicente Esteban, writer

«Recreated with detail and a carefully chosen setting, Morales has taken special care to transmit a very rich physicality, the description of the fabrics, the wefts and the brightly coloured warps are so accurate that it almost seems as if you can touch them.» Heraldo de Aragón

«A hymn to freedom, to art and to the memory of all forgotten women.» Algunos libros buenos

«Through a lyrical story, full of details and almost poetic, she takes us to Germany between the wars, turning the novel into a document with interesting historical references.» Ahora qué leo

GRAZIELLA MORENO

Graziella Moreno (Barcelona, 1965) wanted to study journalism, but ended up studying law, which she enjoyed, while still continuing to write in her spare time. She has been familiar with the inner workings of the justice system since 1991, when she began her career as a civil servant, and in 2002 she became a judge. La hora de la fuga

The Hour Of Escape

No one should die on a night this warm autumn, when the clouds have finally cleared.
No one should die on their wedding night.

The discovery of the body of Noelia Torres in a privileged area of Barcelona, and the disappearance of her wife, the sculptress Esther Sampietro, raise questions that many prefer to leave unanswered. It is always better to look the other way because the truth is uncomfortable, and it has the virtue of being just that, the truth. When the police target him, Mauro Rovira, a former prosecutor and a writer in his twilight years, and Esther's former lover, is dragged back to a past he thought was behind him. Old friendships marked by ambition and desire, monsters hiding under their masks. Every memory can be a clue... or a trap.

Tea Valverde, the corporal in charge of the case, must navigate the pressures, face the silences, and decide who to trust before the investigation is closed for good. Everyone keeps secrets and no one is off the hook. Everyone is keeping secrets and no one is blameless.

How far would you go to find out the truth?

What if the person you love is the one you should fear the most?

La hora de la fuga is a novel that delves into the darkest corners of the human mind, into corruption, and into the impunity of those who wield power over the most vulnerable, issues that are always present in Graziella Moreno's literary universe.

La casa de las amapolas

The House Of Poppies

A gripping novel in which the author blends together with great sensitivity and lyricism a family tragedy and the hope of a new beginning.

Flora, a rather unfriendly woman shrouded in mystery, lives in seclusion at La Casa de las Amapolas, in a spectacular area in the heart of the Albarracín mountains.

She left everything behind and moved there after the disappearance of her daughter, Aurora, and her daughter's friend, Blanca. That was twenty years ago. The girls were never heard from again and both families were devastated.

Over time, Flora has created a refuge in La Casa de las Amapolas, not only for herself but also for all those women who have suffered in some way in their past. There they will find a place where they can try to heal their wounds.

However, now that Flora's son has also died, her daughter-in-law and granddaughter plan to move into La Casa de las Amapolas with her. This will disrupt the lives of the three women, stir up the past and bring to light the terrible truth of Aurora and Blanca's disappearance.

Villa Melania

Villa Melania

Zaragoza, the 6th of January 1966. Sebastián Lanuza and Melania Vega are throwing a party in their mansion in Paseo Ruiseñores. Seventeen minutes before midnight the body of Melanie falls from the enclosed balcony of the tower. This is where the legend of the phantom begins.

Zaragoza, the 6th of January 2019. Camila Oliver, an orphan and a niece of Melania to whom she bears a striking resemblance, is throwing a party in the mansion which she inherited less than a year before. Nineteen minutes before midnight the body of Camila falls from the enclosed balcony of the tower, though in this case there appears a suicide note with the body.

Young Cloe, a sister of Camila on her father's side and also the heir to the Villa Melania, moves to the mansion in spite of the opposition of her mother, Paloma, an embittered and sinister woman. From that moment, the mansion and its former owner become Cloe's obsession.

«Well written, good characters, and a great ending. It is common for tragic stories to attract us. Perhaps we are all somewhat cracked inside, because life is full of mishaps that put it in danger. It may be that most of us hide a locked room inside, and we keep that key hidden so that no one can enter.» Annikaentrelibros

«Family sagas like Villa Melania are always a good omen for good and comforting novels; without a doubt the elegance and perfect narration make this book one of the best discoveries of this year. A perfect book to delve into the mysteries of the mind and family ties but from a somewhat gothic and intense point of view.» Laura Rodríguez Durán, Revista FanFan.es

«Desirée Ruiz's writing is notable for its careful and beautiful prose, with a great capacity for psychological introspection and for the creation of atmosphere. She exhibits her own style, original, evocative and poetic which turns into sinister when the passages require it.» El Mundo

«In Desirée Ruiz's third novel, a family house takes the undisputed leading role in a plot in which mysteries and death trap the reader.» El Periódico Mediterráneo

Run; don't stop; don't look back.
A thriller in which you won't be able to stop and catch your breath.

A woman is executed in the middle of the street, outside a police station. She is Cristina Hidalgo, who disappeared twenty-seven years ago.

From that moment on, the objective of the UDEV Homicide Group, led by Inspector Tania Bilbao, is to find out where she was all that time. The team is joined by Arturo Yani, a policeman haunted by the memory of his childhood, a ticking time bomb, who is blackmailed by Internal Affairs into investigating Tania, known in the Force for her unorthodox methods.

They don't seem the best people to solve the case, but that's exactly why they are the only ones capable of going all the way. What neither of them can suspect is that under their feet hides the worst of nightmares.

Ofensa al frío

Out in the Cold

A couple tied up to the past; an inspector with nothing to lose; a house they can't escape from.
Ofensa al frío is a deeply engaging thriller, with surprising twists and a claustrophobic atmosphere that will delight the reader.

Alba and Miguel's marriage was torn apart after losing what they loved most: their daughter.

The pain and guilt have caused them to no longer maintain any physical or emotional relationship, in fact, they barely speak to each other. They are two strangers who share the only thing that holds them together today, the house they live in.

But their lives are turned upside down when they become implicated in the murder of a man with whom Alba had an affair.

How to explain to Miranda Delgado, the homicide inspector in charge of the case, that the real killer has been dead for years? How to convince her to stop looking for a culprit when the victim could have put her on the trail to find her own missing son alive?

Lo que oculta la tierra

What The Earth Hides

Memories are passed down from parents to children. So is hatred.

Leticia Sierra captivates us with a thriller set in the ever-spectacular Asturian mining basin that leaves the reader in a state of shock.

Asturias, Turón mining valley, 1995. In the middle of nowhere, on a secondary road, the body of an elderly man who was not well liked in the village is found in a penitent position, with his hands and tongue cut off and a bullet in the back of his head. The only witness is Tomasín, a disabled man who cannot communicate, in a state of shock. When the two civil guards, Daniel Caicoya and his partner Jesús Arias, begin to handle the inquiry, they immediately suspect that the reasons for the murder go back fifty years: a brutal revenge. Everything revolves around the Pozo Fortuna mine, but the village remains silent, including Daniel's father, Matías, a former miner who has not spoken to his son for ten years, unable to accept his decision to become a policeman.

JUAN

Juan Tranche (Madrid, 1979) has been involved in the publishing sector for more than twenty years, combining his work with the study of ancient Rome. During the last few years he has participated in different media and has given different conferences to talk about his great passion, the world of gladiators and woman warriors. In 2021 he published his first novel: Spiculus, two gladiators facing death in Nero's Rome. Gladiatorix. Duel of the Eternity is his second novel.

«The author of Spiculus, Juan Tranche, returns to the exciting theme of the Roman gladiators and on this occasion sets his novel Gladiatoras in the Rome of the first century AD. The work has all the ingredients of a good example of the genre: intrigue, love, action and in-depth historical documentation.»

Elle Magazine

«A fast-paced novel, full of intrigue, action and love, destined to be a bestseller of the year. The setting is the Rome of the Emperor Hadrian, the place where the role of women is vindicated.»

Gladiadoras.

El duelo de la eternidad

Gladiatrix. The Duel of the Eternity

IN THE ARENA THEY FOUGHT FOR THEIR LIFE
IN ROME THEY FOUGHT TO DEFEND WHAT THEY BELIEVED IN TOGETHER THEY PROVED THAT ANYTHING IS POSSIBLE

The year 124 AD. Helena and Valeria are two young Roman women from very different worlds: one is a slave, the other a noblewoman. However, both have to make decisions that test their courage. When Emperor Hadrian falls in love with the slave Antinous, Helena's beloved, the young woman is forced to become the best gladiator of all time, something never seen before by the Romans, and in this way try to get closer to Antinous. For her part, Valeria, daughter of a renowned lawyer, dreams of defeating fate that awaits her as a wife and mother in an age ruled by the will and command of men.

The year 131 AD. The people of Rome celebrate the most incredible gladiatorial combat ever seen. Driven by the desire for freedom and revenge, Achillia and Amazona face each other in a final duel. The duel of an eternity.

"Well documented and with clear-cut and detailed settings, Juan Tranche offers us the story of three women who should be rescued: Helena, Valeria and Domicia, whose particular struggle to decide for themselves will captivate all readers."

Agencia SPC

«Juan Tranche presents in Gladiadoras a magnificent historical novel, full of intrigue, action and love, which deals for the first time with the subject of female gladiators, a subject hardly ever touched on in literature. In an excellently documented account and remarkably detailed settings, the author, a specialist in ancient Rome, gives us an exciting story of Helena, Valeria and Domitia, whose struggle to decide for themselves will fascinate the readers.»

HELENA
TUR

Helena Tur was born in Ibiza. An only child, she has since childhood developed a tendency to take refuge in reading or in herself and to make up stories. She became acquainted with the works of Jane Austen when she was a teenager and has reread them on numerous occasions. Not surprisingly, she later graduated in philology. After working as a researcher and literary critic, and influenced by authors such as Jane Austen, Elizabeth Gaskell and the Brontë sisters, she wrote romantic novels under the pseudonym of Jane Kelder. Later, under her real name she published Malasangre with Plaza & Janés, but remained faithful to historical fiction, genre fiction and romance. In 2023 she returned to her Austenite origins with the novel En el corazón de Jane (Plaza & Janés, 2023). In La playa del carbón (Plaza & Janés, 2024) she wove a story inspired by the works of Austen and Elizabeth Gaskell. In El caso de la mujer en el estanque, her latest novel, she changes register to a cosy crime set in Biscay at the end of the 19th century.

The Case Of The Woman In The Pond

With an excellent historical setting, engaging and charismatic characters, a mystery to solve and an unpredictable love story, Helena Tur's new novel mixes murder and romance in an addictive historical cosy crime set in the late 19th century Biscay.

Ochandiano, Vizcaya, 1897. Antonia, the mayor's wife, celebrates her stepson Eloy's birthday with a party to which she invites the whole village. The next day she is found murdered on the bank of the pond. The neighbours enter into a spiral of distrust when the resentment that the victim had provoked in many of them due to her airs of grandeur and her intention to modernise the customs of the region comes to light.

Meanwhile, young Marina falls in love with an outsider, Javier, a handsome and wealthy heir who has come to Ochandiano to claim the money owed to him by her father. Their relationship will be affected by the criminal investigation which, little by little, will unveil the secrets of the -until then- peaceful rural community.
